If trees could talk, what might they tell you about the past?

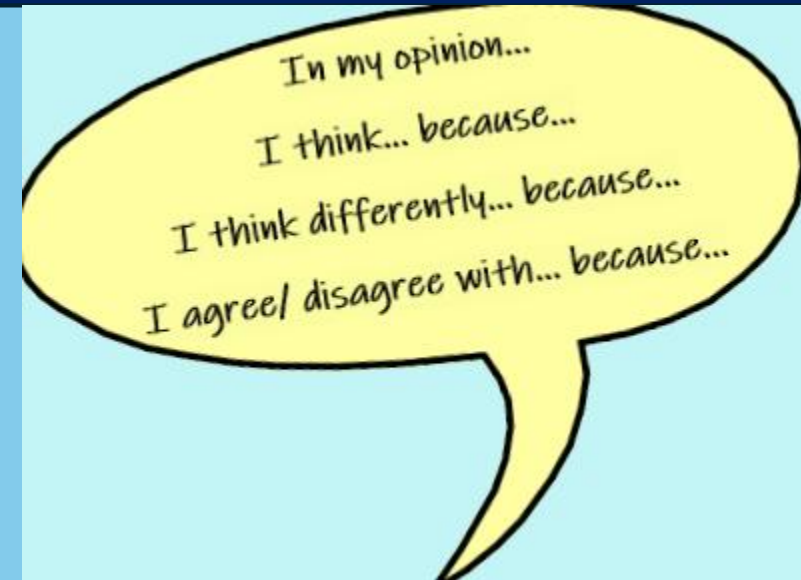

Fortingall Yew

The oldest tree in England is the Fortingall Yew, located in Perthshire. This ancient yew is estimated to be over 5,000 years old, making it one of the oldest trees in Europe as well. It has witnessed significant historical events, including the sealing of the Magna Carta in 1215 and served as a meeting place for notable figures like Henry VIII and Anne Boleyn in the 1530s.
